

Reasons to Use Short-Term Guest Status

STUDENTS

A student of RBHS may invite a student at another institution, or other acquaintance, to spend some time on one of our campuses and visit a class or two. This individual may also be invited to attend academic events over a short period of time.

STAFF

An employee of RBHS may invite a person from another institution or entity to campus to observe a process or task being performed; such as: a new machine being used, a new computer software or hardware solution, etc.

FACULTY

A faculty member may invite another professional to lecture in his classroom or interact with students without the need to assign volunteer faculty status.

OTHERS

Any other individuals for whom access to University property is desired for whom no other appropriate category of status exists.